

PRELUDE

Mrs. Rosemary Lonberger

OPENING WORDS

Pastor Ken DeWitt

THE CALL TO WORSHIP

Leader: To everything, and everyone, there is a season,

People: And a time and place for everything under heaven:

Leader: A time to be born, and a time to die,

People: A time to plant, and a time to harvest,

Leader: A time of wounds, and a time to heal,

People: A time to break down, and a time to build,

Leader: A time to weep, and a time to laugh,

People: A time to embrace, and a time to be apart,

Leader: A time to gain, and a time to lose,

People: A time to keep silence, and a time to speak,

Leader: A time to question, and a time to hope,

People: A time to remember, and a time to release, a time to bring to mind, and a time to hold at heart. For this time of remembrance, now before us has a purpose ---

Leader: It is a time to hold up the dear life of Joey Ellis Dalton, a time where we can come together to celebrate life, even in the midst of death.

People: And so now, in this gathered circle of friends and family, may we remember the circle of life.

ALL: For in death, as in birth, we are held in the encircling arms of God!

POEM & CLOSING PRAYER

Pastor Ken DeWitt

*To you, Lord, we will the offering bring,
And to you the songs of salvation sing.*

*In thanks and rejoicing with one voice,
May your people proclaim they are your choice.*

*The world is great; it stretches to the sky,
People behold, as they in deep confusion lie.*

*In your Word, which you to us make known,
To all peoples you have the way to life now shown.*

*Always, the world will in days of heavy task,
Of your holy ten commandments ask.*

*Always, a people, however guilty they be,
Alone in your holiness will healing see.*

*And thus my people are called with attractions fair,
To the free land and the free air.*

*Possess the mountains and the fertile lands,
Blest by your fathers' (your mothers') godly hands,*

*Wipe from their brow the hot desert sand
And breathe freedom in the promised land.*
